Compilation produced on 25 February 2020

Responses from Austria, Croatia, Czech Republic, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Slovakia, Spain, Sweden, United Kingdom (19 in Total)

Disclaimer:

The following responses have been provided primarily for the purpose of information exchange among EMN NCPs in the framework of the EMN. The contributing EMN NCPs have provided, to the best of their knowledge, information that is up-to-date, objective and reliable. Note, however, that the information provided does not necessarily represent the official policy of an EMN NCPs' Member State.

1. Background information

The Finnish Government has aligned that Finland will develop a model for international recruitment from 3rd countries. Finland would like to ask what kind of models, schemes and practices other Member States and their cities and regions have for international talent attraction and recruitment and also map cooperation possibilities with other MSs. The results of this inquiry will be used in planning the labour based migration policy in Finland.

			Research Staff; Program Highly Qualified Workers and Program Qualified Workers. The Programs were introduced as an instrument for a more efficient management of the intake of applications for Single Permits and long-term business visas at Czech embassies in third countries and the processing of applications by the Ministry of the Interior (Mol). Migrants are admitted in the programs if their employers meet a transparent set of criteria. The programs therefore serve as tools for selection of employers and migrants who become entitled to preferential treatment (at embassies where a sub-quota for the intake of applications is reserved for them) and some other benefits (e.g. simplified administrative procedure, migration with the closest family members, fast-tracking). 1. Program Key and Research Staff The main aim of this Program is to provide support to the Czech and foreign investors, research organizations, technological companies and start-ups who wish to employ highly qualified foreign managers and specialists. The Program is not territorially limited and applies to employees from all the third countries. In case of application for visa for a stay of over 90 days for business purpose and an Employee card application is set a quota by the Government Regulation for selected countries. The employees admitted to the Program are granted an opportunity to submit their visa application at the Representative Office of the Czech Republic abroad. The same opportunity is given to their closest family members. They are granted processing their visa application form within 30 days from its submission. 2. Program Highly Qualified Workers The aim of the Program is to provide support to the employers operating in the Czech Republic who wish to employ highly qualified foreign workers. The Program is intended for newly hired employees occupying the job positions classified according to the CZ-ISCO Classification of Occupations into the main classes 1 – 3, in manufacturing industry, services or the public sector. Migrants admitted in the Program have preferential access to the embassy where they submit applications for Single Permits (or EU Blue Cards) together with their closest family members and they may benefit from a simplified administrative procedure (less documents are required). 3. Program Qualified Workers The aim of the Program is to provide support to the employers who wish to employ qualified foreign workers in the Czech Republic. Program is currently intended for workers from Ukraine, Mongolia, Serbia, Philippines, India, Belarus, Moldova, Montenegro and Kazakhstan. The Program is intended for newly hired employees occupying the job positions classified according to the CZ-ISCO Classification of Occupations into the main classes 4 – 8, in manufacturing industry, services or the public sector. 2. 	EMN NCP Finland	Yes	1. Yes Talent Boost is a cross-administrative programme of the Government designed to boost the immigration of senior specialists, employees, students and researchers. It focuses on attracting the kind of talent who will be instrumental for the growth and internationalisation of Finnish companies, and for RDI in the leading growth sectors. It also targets sectors suffering from a labour shortage. The programme aims to raise Finland to a new level in terms of its attractiveness to specialists and their families. The programme supports the Government's 75% employment rate target. The programme was launched by the previous Government and the current Government will continue and expand the programme. Talent Boost programme objectives 1. Finland becoming an internationally attractive place to work, study, carry out research, and invest. 2. Employers willing and able to recruit international talent. 3. The expertise of international specialists driving the internationalisation and renewal of Finnish companies and organisations. Close long-term cooperation between the state, cities, educational institutions, businesses and other actors is required to attract, accommodate and integrate international specialists and to put their skills to effective use. If there are significant gaps between the services of different providers, Finland will have trouble attracting or retaining talent. The Talent Boost programme provides a framework for close cooperation between the different actors. Programme measures • Shortening the processing period for work-based residence permit applications to 1 month, as out-lined in the Government Programme. • Determined action to attract and retain international talent, and help their families settle in Finland. • Creating a model for

			international recruitment. • Benefitting from international talent in supporting the growth and internationalisation of companies and R&D activities, and in attracting investment. • Increasing receptiveness and diversity in the workplace. The programme is coordinated by the Ministry of Economic Affairs and Employment and the Ministry of Education and Culture. The Talent Boost steering group is chaired by Jari Gustafsson, Permanent Secretary of the Ministry of Economic Affairs and Employment, and Anita Lehikoinen, Permanent Secretary of the Ministry of Education and Culture. In addition to the ministries, the steering group includes representatives from Business Finland, Centres for Economic Development, Transport and the Environment (ELY Centres), Employment and Economic Development Offices (TE Offices), the Finnish Immigration Service, cities and higher education institutions. There is an ongoing continuous dialogue with companies, entrepreneur organisations, chambers of commerce, higher education institutions, research institutes, international specialists, and other stakeholders about how to attract international talent and tap into their expertise. Business Finland is responsible for nationwide coordination of various business services regarding talent attraction and retention. Regional implementation of the programme will rely largely on the Talent Hub service model. The model brings together various regional actors involved in the re-cruitment of international talent and other related service provision, thereby creating seamless cross-sectoral service paths for international specialists and for companies and other organisations that require their input. Eures services are integrated to the programme. There are also several EU funded projects implementing Talent Boost programme: - A ESF-co-financed Labour Mobility in Europe project in 2014–2020 with objectives to ensure the availability of skilled labour and to promote labour mobility from Finland to Europe and from Europe to Finland. - Course towards Finland ESF project supports regions to develop models for implementing Talent Boost objectives. - 8 International talents boosting growth projects around Finland Read more: https://tem.fi/en/talent-boost-en 2. 			recruitment activities to mid-skilled workers from 3rd countries. The model for international recruitment will be developed. The first pilots will focused in technology industry, eg. welders. 3. a) Besides EU, which is naturally the target of Eures, Finland has selected a few pilot countries especially for attracting highly skilled talents and startup entrepreneurs: India, the Republic of Korea, Russia and Ukraine. In the future, the activities will be expanded to mid-skilled labour and potentially to new countries. b) The selection of target countries is based on the analysis made in the cooperation of Ministry of Economic Affairs and Employment, Public Employment Services, Ministry for Foreign Affairs, Business Finland and the cities actively involved in the Talent Boost programme. Discussion with companies interested in international recruitment has been involved in the selection process. India has been selected because India is already the biggest source country for ICT specialists from 3rd countries and Finnish companies are willing and accustomed to recruiting Indian specialists. Korea was selected because Korea has high youth unemployment and Korea is interested in supporting their nationals in working abroad. Russia and Ukraine have been selected because Finnish companies are willing to recruit from Eastern Europe and because of their tech talents high expertise and interest towards working in Finland. The pilots are still in initial phase, so there is no analysis of the results yet. The target fields of expertise are selected based on the need from companies and the fields lacking specialists. The Government wishes to enlarge Talent Boost to respond also to the need of labour in mid-skilled workforce. This brings a requirement for more systematic ways to analyse both the needs for international labour and indentifying the supply of talents and workforce in other countries. c) All possibilities d) Business Finland has developed a national #Finlandworks marketing concept to support international talent attraction and recruitment. Business Finland manages the Workinfinland.fi website and the https://jobs.workinfinland.fi/ job board. Coordinated by Business Finland, Finland has taken part in the following events with #Finlandworks booth or event and digital campaign during 2019: In addition Business Finland has partnered in the following events: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Junction hackathons - Games Factory Talent in Russia and Ukraine

Following the Interministerial Committee on migration and Integration of November 9, 2019, the Government proposed a series of national measures in order to: identify and satisfy the long-term needs of the French economy (especially for rare skills) particularly thanks to the public employment service which will carry out a proactive action to seek skills, in conjunction with its foreign counterparts. simplify the tools and procedures for work authorisation by implementing electronic procedures for "talent passport" applications by early 2021. The Government encourages the arrival of highly-qualified foreign nationals, particularly through simplified procedures, less documents to provide and dedicated arrival facilities within prefectures (for example development of the "France Visas" portal which aims to help foreign nationals with their visa application), and the system for long-term visas equivalent to residence permits to facilitate the procedures for visas approval once in France. The Talent Passport residence permit which was created on 7 March 2016 is a multi-annual residence permit for a maximum period of four years dedicated to attracting international talents. It is granted to various categories of talented workers including: Business investors investing at least €300,000 in France. Entrepreneurs with an innovative business project. Company directors or legal representatives of a business in France. Skilled employees and employees of an innovative new company Highly skilled employees (European Union Blue Card). Employees on assignment under an intra-company transfer where a French contract is signed.

			Researchers. Performing artists. Foreigners who are nationally or internationally recognized in scientific, literary, artistic, intellectual, educational or sporting fields. France has no international recruitment model. However, a decree of January 18, 2008 establishes at regional and national level a list of different shortage occupations which allows the issuance of a residence permit and a work authorisation to the foreign national when a company does not find a candidate on the French labor market with the profile of the position to be filled (exemption of the labour market test). Thirty occupations are concerned, including six at the national level: audit, financial and accounting control managers, IT research and development engineers, IT experts, Technical construction advisor, Construction site manager, Construction supervisors. In addition, France has concluded bilateral agreements with some third countries countries in order to carry out, within the framework of a partnership, a coherent management of migratory flows adapted to the needs of the two signatory countries and to the migratory profile of the partner country. These agreements were concluded with: Benin, Burkina Faso, Cape Verde, Congo, Gabon, Lebanon, Mauritius, Senegal, Tunisia. For these bilateral agreements, selected occupations among those identified for EU member states subject to restrictions on the free movement of employees were taken into account, as well as occupations where recruitment difficulties appeared (due to part-time work , difficult work organization, geographic distance) and some occupations specifically required by the third country in relation to shortage rate and needs. 5_qah_talent_attraction_en_final_v2.docx 4. Employees and company directors coming to work in France stand to benefit from very advantageous tax arrangements, subject to certain condition. In the framework of their expatriation policy, large groups and companies offer numerous advantages to international employees coming to work in France. By way of example, BNP Paribas offers every employee on assignment a “package” that aims to facilitate all procedures upon entry to France. The group offers several advantages such as paying for a removals service, help with finding accommodation, and help with administrative procedures upon entry to France. If they need an authorisation to work or a visa, they get help from the company’s relocation service. Also, BNP Paribas has outsourced the service of accompanying them to the offices of various public services (the prefecture, social security services, etc.).

			4. Certain groups of highly skilled workers can obtain a permanent settlement permit more easily / faster (graduates of German universities, highly qualified foreigners, holders of an EU Blue Card). The Skilled Immigration Act will enter into force on March 1st, 2020. This includes an expedited procedure for qualified professionals that employers can launch at the relevant immigration office in Germany. This will significantly shorten the duration of the administrative procedure for the issuing of visas and includes support with the recognition procedure of qualifications acquired abroad. 5. Spouses of highly skilled workers have certain advantages when applying for visas, e.g. spouses of holders of an EU Blue Card or of researchers are not required to have basic German language skills. In addition, the expedited procedure for qualified professionals also covers the qualified professional's spouse and minor unmarried children, if their visa applications are submitted at the same time.

For the match between jobseekers and employers is not provided in the migration legislation a certain procedure. However, for the determination of volume of admission for highly skilled, low skilled and seasonal employment there is a specific procedure that is followed.

			3. [Greece has adopted an internationalization strategy by implementing promotional activities and campaigns in various countries such as China, USA, in order to attract international students. Part of the growth strategy is to make Greek universities more accessible to a wider audience and strengthen their international profile, although there is not a standard national model for talent attraction for highly skilled third- country students yet. One of the new developments in Greece is that for the first time an undergraduate program in English language is being offered, which would be open to students from other countries, and particularly to students interested in Greek culture, history and archaeology. Further expansion of such programs in English for both undergraduate and graduate levels is planned for the years to come. Moreover Greece became a full member of the cooperation mechanism between China and Central and Eastern European Countries in April, expanding the previous 16+1 cooperation mechanism into 17+1. Bilateral relations have entered into a new era with a more dynamic cultural and economic partnership. China and Greece are now considering the possibilities of expanding cooperation in the education field. We are currently in the process of negotiating the details of a cooperation program for the period from 2020 to 2023 with Chinese authorities, which will be the framework for the cooperation in academic field with China in the coming years.] 4. Relevant are also the provisions which transposed in Greek legislation the ICT's Directive. 5. Greece has transposed the 2009/50/EC Directive of EU Blue Card in the Greek legislation. According to relevant provisions, the holder of an EU Blue Card has the right, among others, of mobility in the member states of European Union, the facilitation of the right of family reunification and enjoys equal treatment with nationals in a number of sectors.

However, the general instrument which regulates migration flow on the basis of matchmaking between employers and jobseekers abroad is the “Flow Decree”, which is emanated every year by the Prime Minister in order to fix quotas of third-country citizens who can access the national territory for working purposes. So, for this purpose, every Regions of Italy (no later than 30 November) are able to send to the Council Presidency a report about the presence of TCNs in their regional territory and the consequent forecast of flows sustainability for the following 3 years. Quotas are divided into paid employment and seasonal work, following a proposal of working assumption made by an Italian or a foreign employer regularly staying in Italy. On 12 March 2019 has been emanated the Flow Decree of 2019 which provides: - 12.850 entries for paid and self-employment; - 18.000 for seasonal work in agricultural sector and hotel industry. Then, within 3 months, the applicant has to request the visa to Italian Embassy in his third country, which is granted for 1 year. The recipient of a start-up visa should formally apply for a residence permit for self-employed work within 8 days from entry into Italy. Such a residence permit has one-year validity and it can be renewed. The application should be made to the local police authority and should be accompanied by the deed of incorporation and the by-laws of the innovative start-up, and proof of a sufficient gross income from legal sources. If the start-up no longer meets the initial visa requirements after visa confirmation, the residence permit is not withdrawn automatically. 			- With regard to Startup Visa, the “Flow Decree” has provided a specific quota of entry for foreign citizens for the creation of start-up companies. In particular, to obtain a visa, the TCN has to send to website italiastartupvisa@mise.gov.it an application form and a documentation proving the possession of a budget not less than 50.000 euro to fund the new startup. After a positive assessment by a technical Committee ISV (composed of representatives of the main organizations of the National Innovation System), an authorization to ask for an IS visa is issued. According to the Operational Guidelines on Investor Visa for Italy, this authorization is valid also for other 5 people involved in the project. - The Law 286/1998 also establishes specific measures for particular categories of medium-highly skilled workers. Art. 27 provides that certain categories - such as managers or highly specialized staff of a company established in Italy, nursing staff employed by public or private sanitary facilities, Journalists and correspondents officially accredited in Italy and employed by foreign press organs or TV and radio broadcasters, university professors, workers employed by organizations or companies operating in the Italian territory, etc. – can enter regardless the quota limit established by the “Flow Decree”. Moreover- while for workers in general (articles 5, 5 bis, 21, 22 of Law n. 286/98 and articles 9, 13, 14 of Law n. 394/99) the employer, who desires to hire a foreign worker resident abroad, has to ask for an authorization (necessary precondition for the issue of entry visa for work purposes) before the competent office - in such cases mentioned above (as for managers and university professors), this authorization is replaced by an employer’s communication of the proposal of contract of stay for subordinate work, which has to be submitted to the competent office before the Prefecture. According to art. 27- quarter, holders of Blue Card are not limited to limit quota of entry and, after 2 years of regular working, may receive the same treatment reserved to Italian citizens for the access to highly skilled work. Then, after 18 months of legal residence, they can move in another Member State to do a highly skilled job. The subsequent article (art. 27 quinquies) regulates the infra corporate transfer, they too detached from limit quota of entry.

Through this programme, we bring every year thousands (around 18.000) of women from Morocco to work at the strawberry harvest in the south of Spain, filling year after year the urgent labour shortages existing in this field. 3. As already mentioned, we target both qualified and non-qualified profiles. Relating Argentina, we chose this country for a pilot project because there are many descendants of Spanish citizens and many highly qualified professionals willing to relocate to Spain, whereas Morocco has the workforce needed for the harvest season, it is geographically quite close to the South of Spain, and is a strategic partner in the migratory field. Offering legal pathways to come and work in Spain between these countries undoubtedly helps fighting against irregular flows, so it is a win-win situation for the countries of origin, transit, destination, for the migrant and for the private sector. Nevertheless, we also consider other countries, such as Colombia, Ecuador, Mauritania, Ukraine and the Dominican Republic, in the first place, because we have migratory agreements with these countries; and, in second place, we include countries with which we have other cooperation instruments: Gambia, Guinea, Guinea Bissau, Cape Verde, Senegal, Mali, Niger, Mexico, el Salvador, the Philippines, Honduras, and Paraguay. For the hiring in origin programme in Morocco we publish annually a call for participants (employers and employees), and their selection is carried out by the Spanish and Moroccan authorities, respectively. So, it is through a legal instrument, implemented with cooperation of the national authorities in the country of origin. In this case, the matchmaking is quite easy, because we are mainly targeting non-qualified employees. Mind you, the added value of the programme is that many of the participants are repeaters, as they come to Spain every harvest season, spend some months in our country doing their job, and, once it is over, they go back to Morocco, till next year. So, there are many women that have been doing this every year for ten or more years, and in fact they usually work for the same employer too. So, the matchmaking is not difficult whatsoever. Regarding the job visa programme with Argentina, the aim of the project was facilitating the matchmaking, so we encouraged the participants to begin the job seek from Argentina, online, so that when they arrived in Spain the matchmaking was closer (but Spanish authorities are not responsible for the matchmaking). 4. Yes, in Spain we have the Act on the Support to Entrepreneurs and their Internationalization, in

			which there is a specific scheme for highly qualified professionals. It is the company who has to sponsor the employee and ask for the permit, but it is a swift procedure, easy, online, at a one-stop-shop, that can lead to getting the permit in 20 days (if the employee is already in Spain) or 30 days (if the employee is abroad). Article 76 says of the Act: The residence permits included in this section will be processed by the Unit for Large Companies and Strategic Economic Sectors, including the use of electronic means, and they will be decided upon by the Directorate-General for Migrations. The maximum decision-making period will be twenty days from the filing of the application in the competent body. If no decision is reached within said period, the permit will be deemed to be granted due to administrative silence. Decisions shall include grounds and may be subject to appeal [...]. The application for residence permits provided for in this section shall extend the validity of the stay or residence status applicable to the applicant until the procedure is terminated. Holders of permits regulated in this Section, may apply for their renewal for two-year periods, as long as they continue to meet the conditions that generated this right, without prejudice to the provisions of article 67.2. The renewals will be electronically processed The Directorate-General for Migrations may request the reports necessary for making a decision on the maintenance of the conditions which generated the right. The filing of the application for renewal shall extend the validity of the permit until termination of the procedure. It shall also be extended in the event that the application is filed within the ninety days after expiry of the previous permit, without prejudice to the filing, where applicable, of the appropriate sanction procedure. The closest example would be the recently expanded Global Talent Scheme – https://www.gov.uk/government/news/boost-for-uk-science-with-unlimited-v... This offers a faster route to settlement (3 years rather than 5 years), greater allowance for absences from the UK, and unrestricted work rights for main applicants and dependants. However, most of the UK's skilled work route is employer-led, meaning third-country nationals must already have a job offer from a UK employer. An exception is the Seasonal Workers pilot, in which licensed operators help to recruit applicants and match them to jobs on a small scale in the

			agricultural sector. There is no general route for jobseekers, although some routes (such as the Youth Mobility Scheme, UK Ancestry) allow individuals to come to the UK to look for work. We do not target jobseekers from particular countries or groups. 4. The UK does not participate in the Blue Card scheme. Tier 2 is our main skilled work route. The core requirement is that applicants must have an offer of a graduate level job, paying an appropriate salary, from a licensed employer. Our Global Talent route is for leaders in sciences, arts and digital technology, and allows top international talent to come to work in the UK without needing a sponsoring employer. 5. Packages/incentives will be offered by local authorities rather than centrally by the Home Office. However, we do allow applicants in most of our work routes to bring dependants (spouses/partners and dependent children under 18), with few restrictions on spouses'/partners' right to work. Some of our routes (e.g. Global Talent) also offer settlement in shorter time periods or greater allowances for absences from the UK without jeopardising future settlement applications.
